

Builder Story

Mill Crossing is the first condominium community in the Frederick area designed and designated specifically for active adults.*

The principals of the Developer, Centrum-Taskers II LP, along with their affiliated architects and construction team, have been building age-restricted communities for over 20 years.

Affiliates of the Developer have built and operated more than 200 apartment home communities (over 100 age-restricted) in 11 states and US Territories, including Maryland and Virginia, and are nationally one of the 20 largest owners and operators of age-restricted housing.

The Developer and its affiliates maintain headquarters in Northern Virginia, less than one hour from the Mill Crossing project, and their combined knowledge of the local marketplace and experience developing senior-oriented residential projects will ensure a home, and a community, tailored to the needs and desires of those aged 55 and better.

“Active Adult” refers to housing designed and intended for adults 55 years of age or older.*
